Shivajinagar: Entrepreneurship Development Centre (EDC) of city-based Vishwakarma Institute of Technology successfully hosted the first of its kind 'Internship Mela' recently for under-graduate and post-graduate students of colleges/ institutes in Pune.

#NetworkingPlatform

The objective of this event was to facilitate students to get internship in start-ups. It provided effective networking platform for the student fraternity to interact with start-ups that needed enthusiastic interns.

The event was a one-day promotion of start-ups (to help them get student interns).

The basic objective was to provide a platform for interaction between students and start-ups. Over 40 start-up companies participated in the mela. The selected students will do summer internship for a period of two months in these companies, starting from the last week of May 2015 to third week of July 2015.

Being the first event of its kind, no fees were charge on either start-ups or student interns. The mela was mutually beneficial to both the start-ups and the students. Start-ups got an opportunity to meet more than 1,000 interns and identify candidates with suitable skills for their specific requirements at no costs.

The event achieved the objective of helping the start-ups to hire creative and impact-making interns. Companies were offered a cubicle, where they were represented by two ambassadors from their company.

"At this first of its kind mela, students got the opportunity to understand the functioning of start-ups, challenges faced by them and are looking forward to develop entrepreneurial skills, which would help them develop their own business models in future," said Bharat Agarwal, Managing Trustee & Executive Director, Vishwakarma Institutes.

After the success of this mela, the EDC team at VIT is planning to organise similar events in the subsequent years.
